BENT DECODE
BRAND
ATOMIC
STAND 394

The Bent Decode is a new progressive park ski from Atomic, purpose-built for the core.

A full ABS CoreGuard layer runs edge to edge, tip to tail, underneath the poplar core, absorbing big landings and standing up to daily park wear and tear. The uniquely bevelled three-dimensional HRZN 3D tip and tail give a balanced, playful swing weight that performs in the air and on the ground. The bold tip and tail design delivers more agility and control, with an energetic and buttery feel that modern park riders demand.

MULTIPISTA DC 80 TI
BRAND
NORDICA

So, we went to the drawing board and built the all-new Multipista DC 80 TI. Its shape knows no compromise. An 80-mm waist hits the sweet spot between lightning-fast edge-to-edge carving and confident stability in mixed conditions. This means you can lay down smooth arcs on morning corduroy, then charge through afternoon chop without hesitation. At its core, Nordica's Energy TI DC construction, soaks up chatter, smooths out the ride, and keeps you locked in no matter the snow.
